The humble ADDRESS of the right honourable the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, in parliament aſſembled.

Die Martis, 17 Decembris, 1765.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE, your majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the lords ſpiritual and temporal, in parliament aſſembled, beg leave to return your majeſty our humble thanks for your moſt gracious ſpeech from the throne.

We ſhould be wanting in our duty not to aſſure your majeſty that, when your majeſty ſhall have been pleaſed to communicate to your parliament, thoſe informations and advices which have been, or ſhall be, received from America, we will proceed to the conſideration of thoſe weighty matters, with an attention equal to the importance of the ſubject, and with a reſolution to do every thing which the exigency of the caſe may require.

Attentive to every event which affects your majeſty, permit us to congratulate your majeſty on the birth of a prince. Whatever adds to your domeſtick happineſs, and the ſtability and increaſe of that illuſtrious houſe, from which theſe kingdoms have received the moſt important benefits, muſt always afford the higheſt ſatisfaction to your faithful ſubjects.

Animated by the ſame ſentiments of zeal and duty to your majeſty, and your royal family, and under the deepeſt impreſſions of concern, we beg leave to approach your throne with our ſincere condolance on the loſs of his late royal highneſs the duke of Cumberland.

The many eminent publick and private virtues, the extent of capacity, and the magnanimity of mind, the affection for your majeſty's perſon, and the eminent ſervices performed for this country, which diſtinguiſhed that great and excellent prince, as they have left a laſting memorial in your royal breaſt, ſo have they made an impreſſion never to be eraſed from the minds of your grateful people.

His MAJESTY's moſt gracious ANSWER.

My Lords,

THE aſſurances you give me of your loyalty, and affection, are truly pleaſing to me.

I have the ſtrongeſt reliance on your reſolution to do every thing that be moſt expedient in the preſent ſtate of my colonies in America.

I ſee, with particular pleaſure, thoſe ſentiments of zeal and duty to me and my family, with which you expreſs your ſatisfaction on the birth of my third ſon, and your concern for the loſs I have ſuſtained by the death of the Duke of Cumberland.

The humble ADDRESS of the Houſe of Commons to the King.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE, your majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the Commons of Great-Britain, beg leave to return your majeſty the thanks of this houſe, for your moſt gracious ſpeech from the throne: And to aſſure your majeſty, that we will not fail, when this houſe ſhall be ſupplied with its members, to apply ourſelves, with the utmoſt diligence and attention, to thoſe important occurrences in America, which your majeſty recommends to our conſideration; and to exert our moſt zealous endeavours for the honour of your majeſty's government, and the true intereſt of your people, in all parts of your extended empire.

Permit us, at the ſame time, to congratulate your majeſty on the late increaſe of your royal family, by the birth of a prince. Your majeſty's happineſs, and that of your people, are one; and every increaſe of your majeſty's illuſtrious family, is conſidered, by your faithful commons, as a further ſecurity to that religion, and thoſe liberties we enjoy under your majeſty's moſt auſpicious government.

We alſo beg leave to offer to your majeſty our ſincere condolance on the great loſs which your majeſty and the kingdom have ſuſtained by the death of his late royal highneſs the duke of Cumberland; whoſe private and publick virtues, whoſe duty and affection to your majeſty, and whoſe diſtinguiſhed merits and ſervices to this country, as they made his perſon dear to this nation while he lived, ſo they cannot fail to render his memory ſacred to the lateſt poſterity.

LONDON, NOVEMBER 30.

WE hear that our commanders in chief on the Weſt-India ſtation, have received orders to keep a watchful eye over the French at the Triangles and Surinam, by appointing ſome guard-ſhips at each of thoſe places, and to prevent, as much as poſſible, any of the manufactures of that kingdom from being exported from thence to North-America or the Britiſh iſlands.

By a gentleman juſt arrived from Tantumquery Fort, on the coaſt of Africa, we are informed, that, when he left that place, they were making there great preparations to put themſelves into a proper poſture of defence, as daily expecting an hoſtile force from ſome of our neighbours.

We hear that Rear-Admiral Graves is again to command on the coaſt of Africa, and that he will ſoon ſail with a ſquadron of three ſhips of the line, the Shannon frigate, and two tranſports. It is alſo ſaid that the Admiral, in conjunction with the hon. Colonel O'Hara, will be charged with the concluſion of ſome very advantageous treaties with Cidy Hamet, and two other Princes, whoſe countries border on the river Senegal. Some valuable preſents are preparing to be ſent out on this occaſion.

The Right Hon. the Earl of Albemarle has obtained, by virtue of his Majeſty's royal ſign manuel, letters of adminiſtration in reſpect to the effects, &c. of his late Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland.

Yesterday a full board of Treasury was held at the Cockpit, Whitehall, at which several Agents for the Colonies gave their attendance.

Extract of a Letter from a Swiss Gentleman at Geneva, dated November 9, 1765.

"Since my last of October 28, poor Rousseau has been expelled from all Switzerland. An infernal spirit of intolerance and of revenge, for bold assertions of offensive truths, hath set both Priests and Magistrates upon him.

"An English traveller, a man of letters, and full of the humanity of his country, brought him pressing invitations from the Courts of Saxe-Gotha and Berlin; together with a most friendly and polite letter from Lord Marischal.

"He began his retreat immediately after the receipt of them for Potsdam; but in so wretched a state of health, that it is feared, he will not be able to support a journey of that length through such dismal roads and inns, and at so rigorous a season. He thought he should not himself; but looked on death as the most desirable event that could happen to a man under his circumstances."

They write from Hamburgh, that the continual levies making there for the troops of a certain Northern Potentate, with the vast quantity of corn amassing on the Lower Elbe, for the use of the same power, are looked upon by all intelligent persons as a certain prognostic of a speedy rupture on the Continent.

They advise from Paris, that the Court by no means approve of the violent methods pursued by Count d'Estaing, Governor of St. Domingo; and that the office of Marechaussé, together with some other of that Governor's oppressive restrictions on trade, were ordered to be suppressed.

They write from Paris, that their differences with the Republic of Poland are adjusted; and that the Prince Czartoryuski is soon expected at that Court in quality of Minister-Plenipotentiary, to announce in form the election and coronation of the King of Poland.

Mr. Dryden Leach, Printer, received last week from his Attorney 400 l. being the damages given him on a late trial against the King's Messengers, for seizing his person, papers, and effects.

Wednesday the remains of the 35th and 22d regiments arrived at Spithead, from Pensacola. We hear the 35th have not brought home above 100 men.

Thursday arrived at Spithead his Majesty's ship Guernsey, Commodore Palliser, from Newfoundland. The rest of the fleet are expected home soon: They are gone for Cadiz.

By late advices from Bengal, we are informed, that, after Major Munro had left the army to return to England, Sir Robert Fletcher succeeded in command, (Major Carnac being absent) Sir Robert immediately put the army in motion, attacked and took a strong fort (from which our people some time before had been repulsed) took a considerable town, after having driven the Nabob from his own territories; and that they had performed a variety of gallant actions, with the greatest courage and conduct, which had gained him great honour.

We hear that a great number of journeymen clothiers from Wiltshire and Gloucestershire, are going over to New-York, to be employed in the woollen manufacturies in that province.

Very large commissions have been received by the Africa men of war, from Jamaica, to ship goods proper for the Spanish coast and main trade in the West-Indies.

It is said, that orders have been sent this week to Chatham, to fit out five sloops of war, to reinforce Admiral Burnaby's squadron in the West-Indies.

We hear that the king of Sardinia's minister has been with Mr. Harrison, to let him know, that his Majesty will order four of his watches to be made by him at 1000l. each, as an acknowledgment of Mr. Harrison's ingenuity, and as some recompence for the time he has spent for the general good of mankind.

The Grenades is likely to produce a finer rum than Jamaica, as the sugar canes are there destitute of that heavy oil, which every where else imparts to that spirit while new, so disagreeable a flavour.

Letters received at Bristol from Senegal advise that his Majesty's ship Melampe, with the Dispatch sloop of war, were gone to Sierra-Leon, to enquire into several irregularities of the French traders, who are very numerous on that part of the coast. It is added, that most of the French ships are mounted with carriage guns.

LONDON, Dec. 3. We hear, that on the first day of the meeting of a great Assembly, an enquiry will be made into the present state of the Northern Colonies.

It is said, that at the same time the repeal of the Cyder-Act comes into consideration, a petition under the direction of some Gentlemen thoroughly acquainted with the Excise Laws, will be presented to Parliament by the respective traders, subject to those laws, desiring to be allowed a right of appeal to a Jury in cases where they may think themselves aggrieved in determinations by the Commissioners of Excise in their summary jurisdiction. And as this point, so essential to the liberty of every Englishman, and agreeable to the constitution of Great-Britain, has been long wished for, it is not doubted but our present patriotic Ministry will eagerly embrace an occasion of doing all in their power to carry such a petition into execution, and thereby shew their regard for the public to the freedom of the subject.

They write from Ratisbon, that among the effects of the late Emperor were found English bank notes to the amount of 300,000 l. sterling.

DEC. 7. We learn by a Gentleman, lately arrived from New-York, that the scarcity of money is extremely great there, and bills on London so difficult to procure, that he was obliged to give eight guineas premium for a bill of 100 l. sterling.

The same Gentleman likewise informs us, that they have entirely laid aside all mourning, even for the nearest relation, and only distinguish themselves by a bathand in their hats, which must be a great detriment to the Norwich weavers; but this is only one piece of œconomy they have been drove to, through their trade being stopped to the French islands and Spanish Main.

By the Guernsey man of war, arrived at Portsmouth, from Newfoundland, there is advice, that the island of St. John's had increased greatly this last summer in new settlers, numbers having gone over from the North of Ireland: and, from the convenience of being readily supplied with all kinds of building materials, it was expected the inhabitants would be doubled next season.

Private letters from Madrid mention, that a treaty was actually on the carpet for the entire cession of New-Orleans, from the Gulf of Mexico, to Great-Britain.

We are informed, from good authority, that one cause of the present great decrease of the consumption of our woollen manufactures in Portugal is, that large quantities of French woollen cloths are imported (though contrary to the laws of Portugal and her treaty with Great-Britain, made in the reign of Queen Anne) under the name of Dutch, though at the same time they are well known to be French; such is the faith, justice, and gratitude of that kingdom.

We likewise hear, that the insecurity of British property is become extremely great in Portugal, occasioned by the loss of the Conservatorial power and independence, from the awe in which all judges now stand of ministerial influence and power; so that the Minister's will is in most matters the Law by which they decide, as on the least disgust conceived by him, they are dismissed or imprisoned. And there have been likewise many new laws made that are very prejudicial to the British commerce, and particularly one regarding bankruptcies.

Private letters from Madrid mention, that a greater harmony at present subsists between Lord Rochford and the Catholic Ministry, than had been perceived for some months past; from which it was apprehended matters were in a fair way of being adjusted between the two Crowns.

From the Brussels Gazette. London, Nov. 22. We promise ourselves great advantages from the treaties of commerce concluded, or on the point of being so, between our court and that of Muscovy and Sweden. 'Tis said there is also a negotiation on the tapis between us and the Spaniards; by means of which, the visiting of the ships of the two nations will reciprocally cease to be made when they approach the dominions of either power in America, and the trade between them will become free and easy. And 'tis further said, that a like regulation is proposed between the subjects of France and the English in that part of the world.

An officer in a certain regiment on duty near this metropolis, who is remarkable for enforcing the military discipline with a severity of exactness, had a ball fired thro' his hat on a late field day as the men were performing some exercise.

DEC. 10. It is said an amicable correspondence is on the carpet between Mr. P--tt and the present A--n--t--n:--- They desire he would take the lead upon his terms---He will give his advice, and only refuses their offers until his character is cleared up to the world, in regard to the German war. ---The M--n--rs promise to support that argument when moved in the house.---Mr. B--kf--d is pleased with the declarations of this Adm--n--tion; and while they continue to act like true spirited Englishmen, for the real good of their country, he will support them with his interest in the House.

Yesterday morning there was a very grand council at the Cockpit, Whitehall, on affairs of great importance: and at noon there was a cabinet council at St. James's, at which were present his Majesty, the two Secretaries of State, the Duke of Portland, the Marquis of Rockingham, and Lords Winchelsea and Besborough.

On the 20th instant Lord Charles Greville Montagu, Member for Huntingdonshire, will embark for his government of South-Carolina.

LONDON, Dec. 16. The counter-orders for goods commissioned from the British settlements in America, on account of the stamp duty, are said to amount to the value of 700,000l. sterling.

We hear that expresses relative to the stamp-duty, were on Friday sent off to the governors of New-York and South-Carolina.

Some of the West-India merchants seem so certain of affairs being soon happily settled in America, that they are proceeding to the completion of their conditional orders from thence.

The reports of the day, which are credited at the west end of the town, are, that the right hon. Mr. Pitt will very shortly join the ministry, but that Earl Temple will not; that a certain intended speech is so framed, that no objections can reasonably be made to it; and that, in consequence, no debates will happen upon that subject on Tuesday next.

Considerable wagers are laid, that a new ministry will take place before the 20th of January next.

This evening a great council is summoned to meet at the Cockpit, Whitehall, preparatory to opening the Sessions of Parliament.

Saturday morning his Excellency Count Guerchy had a conference with Mr. Secretary Conway, on the subject of some late dispatches of importance from the court of Versailles.

It is reported that a magnificent Equestrian statue of his late Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, will soon be placed in the centre of Cavendish-square, at the expence of his royal sister.

It is said that some more guard-ships will be put into commission this week.

They write from Polish Prussia, that prince Wolkowsky, the chief commander of the Russian troops, was expected at Dantzig the beginning of this month, and that his forces are very quiet in their winter quarters, which are assigned them in the territories of the city of Dantzig, which occasions great speculation relative to the destination of them.

Letters from Hanover of the 1st inst. bring advice, that the palace in that city and of Harrenhausen were reparing and fitting up with great expedition, by which it was conjectured his Britannick Majesty will visit his German dominions next spring.

Letters from Madrid advice, that it was confidently talked there of a sudden stop having been put to the treaty for ceding New-Orleans to his Catholick Majesty.

They write from Toulon that Mons. Bompart, naval commander, had just received an order from court to equip a number of men of war and frigates for sea, with the utmost expedition.

Letters from Paris mention that a nobleman of the first rank, will soon be appointed to succeed Count Guerchy at the court of London.

DEC. 18. A private letter from Berlin says, "the celebrated John James Rousseau, is arrived here, in a very weak condition. His Majesty received him with great marks of tenderness and affection, assuring him of his protection against the effects of the intemperate zeal of the bigots, either to popery or puritanism."

DEC. 25. Letters from Leghorn of the 23th ult. bring an account, that they had advice from Algiers, that 14 christian prizes of Spain, Portugal, and Sardinia, have been taken by their rovers in the Mediterranean since the 27th of June, and carried in there; on board of one which was bound from Marseilles for Barcelona, there were Jewels, Toys, &c. to the value of upwards of 18,000 Sequins, of 9s. 6d. each.

A ship is arrived in the river from Gibraltar, having several presents on board for his Majesty from one of the Barbary Regencies; among them are 2 lions, 2 tygers, and 28 fine barbs. There were two ostriches, but they died in the passage.

IRELAND.

DUBLIN CASTLE, Dec. 6. His Majesty has been pleased to make the following promotions in the army on this establishment, and the commissions are come over accordingly, viz.

KINGSTON, in JAMAICA, October, 26, 1765.

The people here are in a perfect phrenzy on account of the stamp act, and declare they will sooner forfeit their lives than those privileges, the foundations of which were laid in the blood of their ancestors, namely the right of taxing themselves!

Among other topic of general discourse, the following question seems most to engrose the publick attention:

"How would the British house of commons receive an "act from the house of Lords for laying any duties?" The inference from which question is, "Why should we submit "to taxes not laid by ourselves?"

Mr. PRINTER,

THE following (excepting the last Line) is an Extract from a Poem on the Times, lately printed at Boston. Whoever thinks YES the proper Answer to be made to each of the Questions there asked, no doubt will as wisely give his Vote to the Admission of the Stamp-Act, and as readily refuse upon Occasion to join with all the Gentlemen Freeholders, and other Inhabitants, of several Counties in North-Carolina, in signing and supporting that loyal, noble, and incomparably well-penned constitutional Association printed in your last Paper; your re-publishing of which in this Week's Gazette, will oblige a great Number of your Readers, and especially, Your's, &c.

March 17, 1766. H. F.

ART thou perswaded, for a moment cool,
That nature made the slave, and mark'd the fool?
That what we won by hardy war, was given?
That non-resistance is secure of heaven?
That * no assistance in our infant state,
Was nursing kind compassion in the Great?
That emigration was not to secure
Our Liberties, but to enslave the more?
That Charters, Privileges, Patents, Powers,
Were ours till now, and now NO LONGER ours?
To claim exemption by the Charter-seal,
Will rashly violate the common-weal?
Juries are nusances, and Traffick worse?
And to be blind, sagacity of course?
The Stamp and Land-Tax are as blessings meant?
And opposition is our free consent?
That where we ARE NOT, we MOST SURELY ARE?
That wrong is right, black white, and foul is fair?
That M--nsf--ld's honest, and that Pitt's a knave?
That Pratt's a villain, and that Wilkes's a slave?
That Godlike Temple is not greatly good?
Nor B----e a RIGID JACOBITE by BLOOD?
That sordid Gr---v---le lately is become
The patron of our liberties at home?
(For whom, now hear me Gods! be hell inflam'd,
And Murderers of their Country doubly d---d)
Now stretch thy pliant faith, adopt this creed,
And THEN receive the Stamping-Act indeed.

* In the Original is the Word Persecution, here changed for no Assistance, which suits better with the Usage Carolina received in her Infant State.

NORTH-CAROLINA.

We the subscribers, free and natural-born subjects of George the Third, true and lawful King of Great-Britain, and all its dependencies, (whom God preserve) whose sacred person, crown and dignity, we are ready and willing, at the expence of our lives and fortunes to defend, being fully convinced of the oppressive and arbitrary tendency of a late act of parliament, imposing stamp duties on the inhabitants of this province, and fundamentally subversive of the liberties and charters of North-America; truly sensible of the ineslimable blessings of a free constitution, gloriously handed down to us by our brave forefathers, detesting rebellion, yet prefering death to Slavery, do, with all Loyalty to our Most Gracious Sovereign, with all deference to the just laws of our country, and with a proper and necessary regard to ourselves and posterity, hereby mutually and solemnly plight our faith and honour, that we will at any risque whatever, and whenever called upon, unite, and truly and faithfully assist each other, to the best of our power, in preventing entirely the operation of the stamp act.

Witness our Hands, this 18th Day of February, 1766.

ILluſtrious Great! fair Virtue's ſteady friends!
Whom no falſe glare, ſhould tempt to ſervile ends.
Will you, unmov'd, ſee Liberty oppreſt,
Nor feel the lab'ring throes which rend her breaſt?
Rouſe from inglorious lethargy, awake!
My rights! my ſacred rights! are now at ſtake.
Your honour bids you, and your duty draws
T' aſſert my power, and maintain my cauſe.
Let active zeal, let patriotick fire,
Your councils guide, and your debates inſpire.
Preſerve your children; ſave the publick weal;
And ſoon, ah! ſoon, the PATAL ACT repeal.
Scarce had ſhe ſpoke, when Barré's noble ſoul,
Riſes ſuperior to each baſe controul.
Aloud he cries; "can you thus tamely ſee,
"Whole colonies involv'd in miſery?
"Oh! 'tis the ſoul's beſt attribute to feel
"The woes of others, and their wounds to heal.
"Behold a melancholy ſcene diſplayed,
"Of Rights uſurp'd, and Charters lightly weigh'd.
"Theſe their ſole bulwark or infring'd, or loſt,
"Farewel to Freedom too, their happy boaſt.
"Freedom the nobleſt bleſſing man can know,
"Since from this ſource, all other bleſſings flow,
"For this the Romans ſpent their lateſt breath,
"This was their ruling paſſion, ſtill in death.
"And will the American, as nobly fir'd?
"Diſclaim a virtue, which Rome's ſons inſpir'd.
"Briton, American, 'tis all the ſame,
"To Heaven-born LIBERTY has each a claim.
"Their common int'reſt no diſtinction knows,
"Each ſhare alike or happineſs, or woes.
"The vaſſalage of one, muſt both inthral,
"And univerſal ruin, wait on all."
Thus Barré ſpoke; the wiſe, the brave, the great,
The event ſtill lab'ring, in the womb of fate.
Augeat imperium noſtri ducis, augeat annos.

Mr. PRINTER,

I AM very fond of ſporting, and of DOGS of the kind, and though buſineſs will not permit me to make uſe of them that way, it is extremely hard I cannot keep one to protect my property, for, within twelve months paſt, I have loſt not leſs than three dogs, worth 25 l. each. I am informed there are perſons in and about Charleſtown who have no other way to procure themſelves pocket money but by dog ſtealing; to break a houſe, or go on the highway, is more honourable than ſuch clandeſtine practices, for that requires ſpirit; therefore, in order to bring ſuch ſpiritleſs thieves to juſtice, I will give five pounds reward to the perſon that will inform me of the thief, that, on the 20th inſt. February 1766, ſtole a tan coloured rough BITCH puppy of the water kind, about four months old, anſwers to the name of MIRA, has a ſmall white ſpot in her forehead, and a tail about four inches long. In caſe the ſaid bitch ſhould be offered for ſale, I will eſteem it a favour if the gentleman ſhe may be tendered to, ſtops her; and if ſhe, through miſtake, followed any perſon, I will be obliged to him, if he informs his humble ſervant, JOSHUA LOCKWOOD.

BRAILSFORD & CHAPMAN,

REQUEST the Favour of all Perſons who are indebted to them, and whoſe Contracts are now due, to pay the ſame without loſs of Time. Thoſe whoſe Debts are of an old Standing, muſt not expect much longer Forbearance.

WILLIAM KEITH informs me of a ſorrel mare having ſtrayed into his incloſure, about 13 hands high, branded on the off ſhoulder like HN in one, with a blaze down her forehead.

ROBERT SPRING, of Lynche's Creek, informs me of a bay horſe having ſtrayed into his incloſure, about 13 hands high, a ſmall ſtar and ſnip down his forehead, branded on the mounting ſhoulder like WM.

THOMAS POTTS informs me of two geldings having ſtrayed into his incloſure, viz. One a bright bay, about 13 2 hands high, branded on the near buttock like 4 in one, and about eight years old. The other a black gelding, docked ſhort, not branded, about 13 hands and an half high, ten years old, paces a little.

The owners of the ſaid ſtrays, may prove their property before me at Black-Mingo. DAVID FULTON.

BROUGHT TO THE WORK-HOUSE,

Jan. 9, 1766. A new Negro Fellow of the Papa Country, calls himſelf DUBAY, marked in the Face with his Country Marks, and has on white Negro Cloth Jacket and Breeches. Taken up at Stono.

February 12th. A Negro Fellow of the Ebo Country named JOE, a little yelloviſh, formerly the Property of Mr. Charles Main, deceaſed, but now belonging to Mr. David Murray, in Georgia, who formerly lived at the Indian-Land; the Fellow is all in Rags. Taken up near Combahee-Bridge.

March 6. A negro fellow, a little yelloviſh in the face, ſays his name is CHARLES PALMER, and was born in Spaniſh-Town, in one Mr. Burden's houſe, in Serpent-ſtreet, Jamaica, and is free, but has no certificate to ſhow for his freedom; that he did belong to his majeſty's ſhip Mercury, Samuel Goodall, Eſq; commander, five years; and ſince has been on the coaſt of Africa in the ſnow Diſpatch, capt. Walter Taylor: He is about 35 years of age, has two large ſcars acroſs his breaſt, and a brand on his right ſhoulder like TR in one, not very plain. Taken up in the night of the 5th inſtant, in Charleſtown, by the watch.

WANTED, an overſeer to take care of a plantation whereon about 40 negroes are to be employed in Eaſt-Florida. A man qualified for this ſervice, and well recommended, will hear of an advantageous place, by applying to the printer.

Yesterday a full board of Treasury was held at the Cockpit, Whitehall, at which several Agents for the Colonies gave their attendance.

Extract of a Letter from a Swiss Gentleman at Geneva, dated November 9, 1765.

"Since my last of October 28, poor Rousseau has been expelled from all Switzerland. An infernal spirit of intolerance and of revenge, for bold assertions of offensive truths, hath set both Priests and Magistrates upon him.

"An English traveller, a man of letters, and full of the humanity of his country, brought him pressing invitations from the Courts of Saxe-Gotha and Berlin; together with a most friendly and polite letter from Lord Marischal.

"He began his retreat immediately after the receipt of them for Potsdam; but in so wretched a state of health, that it is feared, he will not be able to support a journey of that length through such dismal roads and inns, and at so rigorous a season. He thought he should not himself; but looked on death as the most desirable event that could happen to a man under his circumstances."

They write from Hamburgh, that the continual levies making there for the troops of a certain Northern Potentate, with the vast quantity of corn amassing on the Lower Elbe, for the use of the same power, are looked upon by all intelligent persons as a certain prognostic of a speedy rupture on the Continent.

They advise from Paris, that the Court by no means approve of the violent methods pursued by Count d'Estaing, Governor of St. Domingo; and that the office of Marechaussé, together with some other of that Governor's oppressive restrictions on trade, were ordered to be suppressed.

They write from Paris, that their differences with the Republic of Poland are adjusted; and that the Prince Czartoryuski is soon expected at that Court in quality of Minister-Plenipotentiary, to announce in form the election and coronation of the King of Poland.

Mr. Dryden Leach, Printer, received last week from his Attorney 400 l. being the damages given him on a late trial against the King's Messengers, for seizing his person, papers, and effects.

Wednesday the remains of the 35th and 22d regiments arrived at Spithead, from Pensacola. We hear the 35th have not brought home above 100 men.

Thursday arrived at Spithead his Majesty's ship Guernsey, Commodore Palliser, from Newfoundland. The rest of the fleet are expected home soon: They are gone for Cadiz.

By late advices from Bengal, we are informed, that, after Major Munro had left the army to return to England. Sir Robert Fletcher succeeded in command, (Major Carnac being absent) Sir Robert immediately put the army in motion, attacked and took a strong fort (from which our people some time before had been repulsed) took a considerable town, after having driven the Nabob from his own territories; and that they had performed a variety of gallant actions, with the greatest courage and conduct, which had gained him great honour.

We hear that a great number of journeymen clothiers from Wiltshire and Glocestershire, are going over to New-York; to be employed in the woollen manufacturies in that province.

Very large commissions have been received by the Africa man of war, from Jamaica, to ship goods proper for the Spanish coast and main trade in the West-Indies.

It is said, that orders have been sent this week to Chatham, to fit out five sloops of war, to reinforce Admiral Burnaby's squadron in the West-Indies.

We hear that the king of Sardinia's minister has been with Mr. Harrison, to let him know, that his Majesty will order four of his watches to be made by him at 1000l. each, as an acknowledgment of Mr. Harrison's ingenuity, and as some recompence for the time he has spent for the general good of mankind.

The Grenades is likely to produce a finer rum than Jamaica, as the sugar canes are there destitute of that heavy oil, which every where else imparts to that spirit while new, so disagreeable a flavour.

Letters received at Bristol from Senegal advise that his Majesty's ship Melampe, with the Dispatch sloop of war, were gone to Sierra-Leon, to enquire into several irregularities of the French traders, who are very numerous on that part of the coast. It is added, that most of the French ships are mounted with carriage guns.

LONDON, Dec. 3. We hear, that on the first day of the meeting of a great Assembly, an enquiry will be made into the present state of the Northern Colonies.

It is said, that at the same time the repeal of the Cyder-Act comes into consideration, a petition under the direction of some Gentlemen thoroughly acquainted with the Excise Laws, will be presented to Parliament by the respective traders, subject to those laws, desiring to be allowed a right of appeal to a Jury in cases where they may think themselves aggrieved in determinations by the Commissioners of Excise in their summary jurisdiction. And as this point, so essential to the liberty of every Englishman, and agreeable to the constitution of Great-Britain, has been long wished for, it is not doubted but our present patriotic Ministry will eagerly embrace an occasion of doing all in their power to carry such a petition into execution, and thereby shew their regard for the public to the freedom of the subject.

They write from Ratisbon, that among the effects of the late Emperor were found English bank notes to the amount of 308,000 l. sterling.

DEC. 7. We learn by a Gentleman, lately arrived from New-York, that the scarcity of money is extremely great there, and bills on London so difficult to procure, that he was obliged to give eight guineas premium for a bill of 100 l. sterling.

The same Gentleman likewise informs us, that they have entirely laid aside all mourning, even for the nearest relation, and only distinguish themselves by a hatband in their hats, which must be a great detriment to the Norwich weavers; but this is only one piece of oeconomy they have been drove to, through their trade being stopped to the French islands and Spanish Main.

By the Guernsey man of war, arrived at Portsmouth, from Newfoundland, there is advice, that the island of St. John's had increased greatly this last summer in new settlers, numbers having gone over from the North of Ireland: and, from the convenience of being readily supplied with all kinds of building materials, it was expected the inhabitants would be doubled next season.

Private letters from Madrid mention, that a treaty was actually on the carpet for the entire cession of New-Orleans, from the Gulf of Mexico, to Great-Britain.

We are informed, from good authority, that one cause of the present great decrease of the consumption of our woollen manufactures in Portugal is, that large quantities of French woollen cloths are imported (though contrary to the laws of Portugal and her treaty with Great-Britain, made in the reign of Queen Anne) under the name of Dutch, though at the same time they are well known to be French; such is the faith, justice, and gratitude of that kingdom.

We likewise hear, that the insecurity of British property is become extremely great in Portugal, occasioned by the loss of the Conservatorial power and independence, from the awe in which all judges now stand of ministerial influence and power; so that the Minister's will is in most matters the Law by which they decide, as on the least disgust conceived by him, they are dismissed or imprisoned. And there have been likewise many new laws made that are very prejudicial to the British commerce, and particularly one regarding bankruptcies.

Private letters from Madrid mention, that a greater harmony at present subsists between Lord Rochford and the Catholic Ministry, than had been perceived for some months past; from which it was apprehended matters were in a fair way of being adjusted between the two Crowns.

From the Brussels Gazette. London, Nov. 22. We promise ourselves great advantages from the treaties of commerce concluded, or on the point of being so, between our court and that of Muscovy and Sweden. 'Tis said there is also a negotiation on the tapis between us and the Spaniards; by means of which, the visiting of the ships of the two nations will reciprocally cease to be made when they approach the dominions of either power in America, and the trade between them will become free and easy. And 'tis further said, that a like regulation is proposed between the subjects of France and the English in that part of the world.

An officer in a certain regiment on duty near this metropolis, who is remarkable for enforcing the military discipline with a severity of exactness, had a ball fired thro' his hat on a late field day as the men were performing some exercise.

DEC. 10. It is said an amicable correspondence is on the carpet between Mr. P--tt and the present A--n--t--n :--- They desire he would take the lead upon his terms---He will give his advice, and only refuses their offers until his character is cleared up to the world, in regard to the German war. ---The M--n--rs promise to support that argument when moved in the house.---Mr. B--kf--d is pleased with the declarations of this Adm--n--tion; and while they continue to act like true spirited Englishmen, for the real good of their country, he will support them with his interest in the House.

Yesterday morning there was a very grand council at the Cockpit, Whitehall, on affairs of great importance: and at noon there was a cabinet council at St. James's, at which were present his Majesty, the two Secretaries of State, the Duke of Portland, the Marquis of Rockingham, and Lords Winchelsea and Besborough.

On the 20th instant Lord Charles Greville Montagu, Member for Huntingdonshire, will embark for his government of South-Carolina.

LONDON, Dec. 16. The counter-orders for goods commissioned from the British settlements in America, on account of the stamp duty, are said to amount to the value of 700,000l. sterling.

We hear that expresses relative to the stamp-duty, were on Friday sent off to the governors of New-York and South-Carolina.

Some of the West-India merchants seem so certain of affairs being soon happily settled in America, that they are proceeding to the completion of their conditional orders from thence.

The reports of the day, which are credited at the west end of the town, are, that the right hon. Mr. Pitt will very shortly join the ministry, but that Earl Temple will not; that a certain intended speech is so framed, that no objections can reasonably be made to it; and that, in consequence, no debates will happen upon that subject on Tuesday next.

Considerable wagers are laid, that a new ministry will take place before the 20th of January next.

This evening a great council is summoned to meet at the Cockpit, Whitehall, preparatory to opening the Sessions of Parliament.

Saturday morning his Excellency Count Guerchy had a conference with Mr. Secretary Conway, on the subject of some late dispatches of importance from the court of Versailles.

It is reported that a magnificent Equestrian statue of his late Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, will soon be placed in the centre of Cavendish-square, at the expence of his royal sister.

It is said that some more guard-ships will be put into commission this week.

They write from Polish Prussia, that prince Wolkowsky, the chief commander of the Russian troops, was expected at Dantzig the beginning of this month, and that his forces are very quiet in their winter quarters, which are assigned them in the territories of the city of Dantzig, which occasions great speculation relative to the destination of them.

Letters from Hanover of the 1st inst. bring advice, that the palace in that city and of Herrenhausen were repairing and fitting up with great expedition, by which it was conjectured his Britannick Majesty will visit his German dominions next spring.

Letters from Madrid advice, that it was confidently talked there of a sudden stop having been put to the treaty for ceding New-Orleans to his Catholick Majesty.

They write from Toulon that Mons. Bompart, naval commander, had just received an order from court to equip a number of men of war and frigates for sea, with the utmost expedition.

Letters from Paris mention that a nobleman of the first rank, will soon be appointed to succeed Count Guerchy at the court of London.

DEC. 18. A private letter from Berlin says, "the celebrated John James Rousseau, is arrived here, in a very weak condition. His Majesty received him with great marks of tenderness and affection, assuring him of his protection against the effects of the intemperate zeal of the bigots, either to popery or puritanism."

DEC. 25. Letters from Leghorn of the 23th ult. bring an account, that they had advice from Algiers, that 14 christian prizes of Spain, Portugal, and Sardinia, have been taken by their rovers in the Mediterranean since the 27th of June, and carried in there; on board of one which was bound from Marseilles for Barcelona, there were Jewels, Toys, &c. to the value of upwards of 18,000 Sequins, of 9 s. 6 d. each.

A ship is arrived in the river from Gibraltar, having several presents on board for his Majesty from one of the Barbary Regencies; among them are a lioness, a tygress, and 18 fine barbs. There were two ostriches, but they died in the passage.

IRELAND.

KINGSTON, in JAMAICA, October, 26, 1765.

The people here are in a perfect phrenzy on account of the stamp act, and declare they will sooner forfeit their lives than those privileges, the foundations of which were laid in the blood of their ancestors, namely the right of taxing themselves!

Among other topic of general discourse, the following question seems most to engross the publick attention:

"How would the British house of commons receive an "act from the house of Lords for laying any duties?" The inference from which question is, "Why should we submit "to taxes not laid by ourselves?"

MR. PRINTER,

THE following (excepting the last Line) is an Extract from a Poem on the Times, lately printed at Boston. Whoever thinks YES the proper Answer to be made to each of the Questions there asked, no doubt will as wisely give his Vote to the Admission of the Stamp-Act, and as readily refuse upon Occasion to join with all the Gentlemen Freeholders, and other Inhabitants, of several Counties in North-Carolina, in signing and supporting that loyal, noble, and incomparably well-penned constitutional Association printed in your last Paper; your re-publishing of which in this Week's Gazette, will oblige a great Number of your Readers, and especially, Your's, &c.

March 17, 1766. H. F.

ART thou persuaded, for a moment cool,
That nature made the slave, and mark'd the fool?
That what we won by hardy war, was given?
That non-resistance is secure of heaven?
That * no assistance in our infant state,
Was nursing kind compassion in the Great?
That emigration was not to secure
Our Liberties, but to enslave the more?
That Charters, Privileges, Patents, Powers,
Were ours till now, and now NO LONGER ours?
To claim exemption by the Charter-seal,
Will rashly violate the common-weal?
Juries are nusances, and Traffick worse?
And to be blind, sagacity of course?
The Stamp and Land-Tax are as blessings meant?
And opposition is our free consent?
That where we ARE NOT, we MOST SURELY ARE?
That wrong is right, black white, and foul is fair?
That M--nsf--ld's honest, and that Pitt's a knave?
That Pratt's a villain, and that Wilkes's a slave?
That Godlike Temple is not greatly good?
Nor B----e a RIGID JACOBITE by BLOOD?
That fordid Gr---v---le lately is become
The patron of our liberties at home?
(For whom, now hear me Gods! be hell inflam'd,
And Murderers of their Country doubly d---d)
Now stretch thy plant faith, adopt this creed,
And THEN receive the Stamping-Act indeed.

* In the Original is the Word Persecution, here changed for no Assistance, which suits better with the Usage Carolina received in her Infant State.

NORTH-CAROLINA.

We the subscribers, free and natural-born subjects of George the Third, true and lawful King of Great-Britain, and all its dependencies, (whom God preserve) whose sacred person, crown and dignity, we are ready and willing, at the expence of our lives and fortunes to defend, being fully convinced of the oppressive and arbitrary tendency of a late act of parliament, imposing stamp duties on the inhabitants of this province, and fundamentally subversive of the liberties and charters of North-America; truly sensible of the ineffimable blessings of a free constitution, gloriously handed down to us by our brave forefathers, detesting rebellion, yet prefering death to Slavery, do, with all Loyalty to our Most Gracious Sovereign, with all deference to the just laws of our country, and with a proper and necessary regard to ourselves and posterity, hereby mutually and solemnly plight our faith and honour, that we will at any risque whatever, and whenever called upon, unite, and truly and faithfully assist each other, to the best of our power, in preventing entirely the operation of the stamp act.

Witness our Hands, this 18th Day of February, 1766.

QUESTION by ENOC RIGHT.

A Bomb being thrown out of a Mortar at 15 Degrees Elevation, fell short of the intended Mark 116 Paces; but another thrown with the same Charge, at 40 Degrees Elevation, exceeded the same Mark 192 Paces. REQUIRED the true Distance of the Mark, and the Angle of Elevation necessary to hit the same.

To the Printer of the South-Carolina Gazette, &c.

By inserting the following in your Paper, you will oblige your constant Reader, R. A.

The ADDRESS of LIBERTY to PARLIAMENT.

ILluſtrious Great! fair Virtue's ſteady friends!
Whom no falſe glare, ſhould tempt to ſervile ends.
Will you, unmov'd, ſee Liberty oppreſt,
Nor feel the lab'ring throes which rend her breaſt?
Rouſe from inglorious lethargy, awake!
My rights! my ſacred rights! are now at ſtake.
Your honour bids you, and your duty draws
T' aſſert my power, and maintain my cauſe.
Let active zeal, let patriotick fire,
Your councils guide, and your debates inſpire.
Preſerve your children; ſave the publick weal;
And ſoon, ah! ſoon, the FATAL ACT repeal.
Scarce had ſhe ſpoke, when Barré's noble ſoul,
Riſes ſuperior to each baſe controul.
Aloud he cries; "can you thus tamely ſee,
" Whole colonies involv'd in miſery?
" Oh! 'tis the ſoul's beſt attribute to feel
" The woes of others, and their wounds to heal.
" Behold a melancholy ſcene diſplayed,
" Of Rights uſurp'd, and Charters lightly weigh'd.
" Theſe their ſole bulwark or infring'd, or loſt,
" Farewel to Freedom too, their happy boaſt.
" Freedom the nobleſt bleſſing man can know,
" Since from this ſource, all other bleſſings flow.
" For this the Romans ſpent their lateſt breath,
" This was their ruling paſſion, ſtill in death.
" And will the American, as nobly fir'd?
" Diſclaim a virtue, which Rome's ſons inſpir'd.
" Briton, American, 'tis all the ſame,
" To Heaven-born LIBERTY has each a claim.
" Their common int'reſt no diſtinction knows,
" Each ſhare alike or happineſs, or woes.
" The vaſſalage of one, muſt both inthral,
" And univerſal ruin, wait on all."
Thus Barré ſpoke; the wiſe, the brave, the great,
The event ſtill lab'ring, in the womb of fate.
Augeat imperium noſtri ducis, augeat annos.

CHARLES-STEVENS STOCKER,

DESIRES all Perſons indebted to him to diſcharge their Accounts, or otherwiſe ſettle to his Satisfaction, before the firſt of March 1766.

Mr. PRINTER,

I AM very fond of ſporting, and of DOGS of the kind, and though buſineſs will not permit me to make uſe of them that way, it is extremely hard I cannot keep one to protect my property, for, within twelve months paſt, I have loſt not leſs than three dogs, worth 25l. each. I am informed there are perſons in and about Charleſtown who have no other way to procure themſelves pocket money but by dog ſtealing; to break a houſe, or go on the highway, is more honourable than ſuch clandeſtine practices, for that requires ſpirit; therefore, in order to bring ſuch ſpiritleſs thieves to juſtice, I will give five pounds reward to the perſon that will inform me of the thief, that, on the 20th inſt. February 1766, ſtole a tan coloured rough BITCH puppy of the water kind, about four months old, anſwers to the name of MILO, has a ſmall white ſpot in her forehead, and a tail about four inches long. In caſe the ſaid bitch ſhould be offered for ſale, I will eſteem it a favour if the gentleman ſhe may be tendered to, ſtops her; and if ſhe, through miſtake, followed any perſon, I will be obliged to him, if he informs his humble ſervant, JOSHUA LOCKWOOD.

BRAILSFORD & CHAPMAN,

REQUEST the Favour of all Perſons who are indebted to them, and whoſe Contracts are now due, to pay the ſame without loſs of Time. Thoſe whoſe Debts are of an old Standing, muſt not expect much longer Forbearance.

WILLIAM KEITH informs me of a ſorrel mare having ſtrayed into his incloſure, about 13 hands high, branded on the off ſhoulder like HN in one, with a blaze down her forehead.

ROBERT SPRING, of Lynche's Creek, informs me of a bay horſe having ſtrayed into his incloſure, about 13 hands high, a ſmall ſtar and ſnip down his forehead, branded on the mounting ſhoulder like WM.

THOMAS POTTS informs me of two geldings having ſtrayed into his incloſure, viz. One a bright bay, about 13 2 hands high, branded on the near buttock like 4 in one, and about eight years old. The other a black gelding, docked ſhort, not branded, about 13 hands and an half high, ten years old, paces a little.

The owners of the ſaid ſtrays, may prove their property before me at Black-Mingo. DAVID FULTON.

TORRANS, POAUG, & Co.

THE Subscriber finding it necessary to acquaint all persons concerned, that he has been at a very considerable expence in enlarging and keeping the causeway, &c. at Ashley-ferry, and an annual expence for ropes, boats, &c. He therefore intreats the favour of all persons that are any ways indebted to him to discharge the same, by or before the first day of April 1766, after which time, if his request is not complied with, he is determined to ferry over no person without the money (except those who shall sign a written agreement by the year) as he finds it very tedious to keep particular accounts of such trifling sums, attended with great loss and more trouble in collecting. He therefore desires every one to pay regard to this publick notice.
